U. S. AIR FORCE ANNOUNCES FLIGHTS FASTER THAN SOUND

FINAL SENATE VOTE ON DRAFT SET FOR TODAY

Preceded by Heated Debate; Outcome in House Uncertain.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Worn down by talk, senators pledged a final vote today on their peacetime draft bill.

They agreed to begin balloting on remaining amendments at 3 p m (2 EST) with the likelihood of the showdown rollcall an hour later.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders forecast the military manpower bill would be approved. Then it moves over to the house for another battle.

That one won't be as drawn out—if it comes. But it still remains to be seen whether the powerful rules committee will let the bill reach the house floor.

The senate's agreement to vote—coupled with a limit on debate—came after three consecutive day-and-night sessions. Clocks in the chamber has passed the midnight hour after 13½ hours of angry debate.

Bills Major Details

As the climatic balloting neared these were the major features of the bitterly contested measure to revive selective service:

▶All men from 18 through 25 would have to register with those 19 through 25 subject to two years' service in the regular Army, Air Force, Navy or Marines.

▶Up to 180,000 18-year olds could volunteer for one year of training and thus escape the chance of being drafted at 19 for two years.

▶Both the regular and armed services and their reserves would be expanded, with the draft used to fill up any gaps left by lack of volunteers or re-enlistments.

▶The wartime selection service organization with its local draft boards would be revived for two years on a reduced scale.

Although several amendments remained to be voted upon, only one major change appeared possible.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) wants to cut the term of draftees' service from 24 to 18 months. The senate beat this down by a voice vote last night before Morse realized what happened.

(At his protest, the lawmakers agreed to give him a rollcall vote today on the question of reconsideration. If that passes, Morse could ask for a recorded tally on the 18 month proposal.

Arguments Grow Heated

Yesterday's extra-hour session produced some caustic floor arguments, a large crowd of spectators, and these results:

▶Defeat on a voice vote of the modified segregation amendment urged by Senator Russell and other southern senators. It would have required all-white or all-Negro units in the armed services for men who asked to serve only with those of their own race.

▶Approval, by 44 to 39 vote, of a provision for a complete overhaul of the Army and Air Force court martial system. Senator Kem (R-Mo) won this after telling the senate that military justice was shocking to thousands of soldiers during World War II. An identical provision has been voted by the house as a separate measure.

▶Rejection on a voice vote of an attempt by Senator Malone (R-Nev) to revive the original separate universal military training plan.

▶Defeat, by a 56 to 24 roll call, of an amendment by Senator Capehart (R-Ind) which would have required President Truman to "push the button" to start any actual drafting. A similar provision is in the house bill that has been awaiting rules committee clearance for weeks.

Both GOP policy chairman Taft of Ohio and acting leader Wherry backed Capehart's proposal. It would have delayed actual drafting for 90 days after bill became law and the president to start the machinery by a White House proclamation.

OK BILL TO HIKE RETIRED RAIL PAY

By The United Press

WASHINGTON June 10—The senate labor committee has approved legislation to increase the benefits of retired railroad employes and to cut the unemployment compensation tax paid by the railroads. The house passed the measure yesterday.

It would provide a 70 per cent increase in benefits paid to retired employes. It also would require the payment of unused credits in an employe's pension fund to his survivors.

The bill would give the railroads a new sliding scale of unemployment taxes, based on the size of the reserve in the unemployment benefit fund. Its immediate effect would be to cut the present tax of three per cent to half of one per cent.

Ex-King and Princess Wed in Athens Today

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, June 10—Mihai, the youthful ex-king of Romania, and Anne, a 24-year-old Danish princess of the house of Bourbon-Parma, were married today in the royal palace here.

In a ceremony which took slightly more than 20 minutes, Archbishop Damaskinos of the Greek Orthodox church united the royal families of Romania and Denmark. Anne and Mihai first met at the wedding last fall of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip in London.

Anne, a pretty blond who once worked as a saleagirl in a Fifth avenue shop in New York, wore a wedding gown of salmon pink and a diamond-studded diadem.

Mihai in Uniform

Mihai wore a Romanian army marshall's uniform.

After the ceremony the entire small wedding party went to the courtyard of the palace to meet more than a score of photographers. No reporters were allowed to attend the wedding ceremony and they also were barred from the picture taking.

The 26-year-old former king and his bride intend to honeymoon for a time at Tatoi, the Greek summer palace, 17 miles north of Athens.

Witness said the entire ceremony went off flawlessly, reflecting four hours of painstaking rehearsals yesterday afternoon and last night.

King Paul of Greece, Mihai's uncle, sponsored the bride and Prince Eric, uncle of the bride was best man. The Greek king wore a white admiral's uniform. His queen, Frederika, was attired in a sky blue dress and wore a diadem. Constantine the eight-year-old crown prince of Greece, was a train bearer.

Follow Tradition

The last words spoken by Archbishop Damaskinos in the wedding ceremony were "Isiah horepse" which means "With the help of God, dance."

Mihai and Anne, followed by King Paul, Queen Frederika and Prince Eric then made three turns around the blue velvet covered table before which the marriage was performed.

As they "danced" they were showered with rice and rose petals. All during the ceremony and the "dance" they wore crowns attached to one another, symbolizing the union of the man and the woman.

WINS ROUND IN BACK PAY SUIT

Court Ruling Favors City in Action of Police and Firemen.

Another round in the long drawn out legal battle in which 35 firemen and 16 policemen are seeking a total of $66,950.54 in suits for "back pay" against the city ended this week with the city employes still unable to get their cases into court after nearly three years of litigation.

Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford of Morrow county sustained a demurrer filed by City Solicitor John Watters and special counsel Frank Wiedemann in which the city contended the actions against the city were not commenced within the time limit prescribed by the statute of limitations and the petitions of the plaintiffs did not state facts showing cause for action.

Suits Filed in 1945 and 1946

Suit for the policemen was filed Aug. 6, 1945, by Patrolman Clyde Hardin for himself "and others similarly situated" while the firemen's action was filed Oct. 24 of the following year by R. M. Miller and other firemen "similarly situated." They seek back pay for the years 1933, 34, 36, 37 and 38. Policemen's claims total $19 791 07 and the firemen's $37,159 47.

As yet their attorneys, William P. Moloney and Moloney and Kelly, representing the firemen, and Carter M. Patton, representing the policemen, have been unable to get the cases into court for trial or to obtain a settlement from the city.

Judge Rutherford in sustaining the city's demurrer to the plaintiff's latest petition seeking action, agreed with the city contention that the actions were not started within the time limit set under the statute of limitations but did not hold that the city employes were without a cause for action.

Given Time Extension

He gave the plaintiffs until June 21 to amend their petition again. They now have the alternatives of following instruction of the common pleas court and file a new petition or appeal from the ruling to the court of appeals in an effort to reverse the decision of Judge Rutherford.

Mr Patton indicated today that no decision has been made as yet as to the next move on the part of the plaintiffs.

PILOT FACES CHARGE OF RECKLESS FLYING

Radnor Man Free on Bond After Patrol Arrest.

David D. Watkins of near Radnor, arrested yesterday on a double count of flying an airplane while under the influence of alcohol and reckless operation, will be arraigned in municipal court Saturday morning, the state highway patrol reported.

He was arrested yesterday at 6 30 p. m. at the Miller airport on the Delaware pike, south of Marion, following complaints filed with the patrol by residents of Waldo, who claimed the plane was flying too low.

He was flying an airport plane—Aeronca Champion—at the time and had one passenger, unidentified, in the plane with him. He was released under $300 bond pending his appearance in court Saturday at 10 a. m.

The local post of the state highway patrol answered the call in two patrol cars, and Sergeant Webb of the Columbus patrol flew to the scene from the Bellefontaine post in Beechcraft Bonanza plane. He landed at the airport 10 minutes after Watkins had set his plane down.

Watkins did not have a private flying license in his possession at the time of the arrest, the patrol said. Under the Ohio flying code, the charges filed against Watkins carry a $500 fine for each offense or six months in jail or both.

STASSEN JOINS IN DEFENSE OF LAW MAKERS

Answers Truman "Worst Congress" Charge; Some Reply, "Poorest President."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 10—Harold E. Stassen said today President Truman made an "unjustified, unstatesmanlike" statement when he termed this congress the "worst" in history.

The Republican presidential aspirant gave the senate appropriations committee his opinion of the President's lashing of congress on a cross-country speaking trip. Stassen was before the committee to oppose house cuts in the European Recovery program funds.

Stassen had just said he thinks congress has made "one of the most constructive two-year records in foreign policy of any congress in the history of our nation."

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) asked "Then you don't agree with the President's statement that this is the worst congress in the history of the congress?"

Stassen said:

"I view that as an ill-considered, ad-libbed remark that will have an unfortunate effect on the action which the President and congress should together take in the interests of the country. It was an unjustified and unstatesmanlike statement."

Called "Poorest President"

Even before this crept into the ERP hearings, it was clear the President's remarks had pulled off the political gloves all the way around. Republicans were firing back such retorts as "poorest president."

The long distance verbal slugfest showed every sign of turning the coming campaign into the roughest and toughest in years.

The name calling started at Spokane where Mr. Truman, openly bidding for votes on his western tour, lashed out anew at the GOP-controlled congress.

He told a civic celebration that the people deserve more of the present congress if they fail to vote in November.

Then, in an exchange with a Spokane reporter from the rear platform of his special train, the President caustically referred to the Chicago Tribune and the Spokane Spokesman-Review as "the worst in the United States."

Those papers, he added, "got just what you ought to have—you've got the worst congress in the United States you've ever had."

Comebacks Swift

There was no immediate comment from publishers of either paper.

But GOP congress members struck back swiftly and pointedly.

"There are a lot of people," commented house Republican leader Halleck of Indiana, "who think Mr Truman is the poorest President we have had since George Washington was elected."

House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts added "There are people who have said that about the President."

"That's mighty big talk coming from a small boy," said Rep Van Zandt (R-Pa).

Rep Hope (R-Kan), chairman of the house agriculture committee, suggested that "the frigid reception which the President is receiving in the west seems to have driven him to some loose and irresponsible talk."

GOP senators were somewhat more restrained in their public comment.

But Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, acting majority leader, accused the President of playing "ward politics."

Taft To Be on Air

Sen Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee and a candidate for his party's presidential nomination, will have a made-to-order forum for a rebuttal tomorrow night.

Taft, who has tangled with Mr Truman before on congress' record, is booked for an appearance on the NBC "Pro and Con" program at 9 45 p m. (EST). The broadcast, on the subject "Shall We Go Back to the New Deal?" was planned before the President's latest outcry.

Taft noted this and said his appearance "is not intended as a reply to Mr Truman's statement."

Congressional Democrats were silent.

Insurance Men Elect Kette

New Officers Named at Meeting with Fire Safety Committee.

A. W. Kette, Marion insurance agent, was elected president of the Fifth district of the Ohio Association of Insurance Agents at the annual meeting of the organization last night in the Marion Club room of Hotel Harding. Ralph G. Williamson, also of Marion, was elected secretary-treasurer of the district. Edward Ricker of Lima as elected vice president and Ray H. Schryer of Lima, was elected trustee. The Fifth district embraces twelve northwestern Ohio counties.

More than 100 insurance agents and executives joined by invited guests, which included 15 district fire chiefs, attended the dinner meeting as a climax of the joint meeting of the insurance agents and the Fifth District Conference of the Ohio Fire Safety committee.

Heading the speaking program was Charles R. Scott, of Columbus, assistant state fire marshal, who spoke on "The Forgotten Word."

Cites Fire Loans

"The forgotten word," Mr Scott said, is "cooperation." "Ohio's citizens lost 22 millions of dollars in 33,000 fires last year and for the past five years we have lost an average of 405 lives each year in our state. Much of this loss could have been prevented and many of these lives could have been saved had we all cooperated in avoiding carelessness which is the cause of virtually all fires. Foolish individual acts of carelessness exact a horrible toll in human life and property every year simply because we do not use our normal intelligence and remain alert to fire hazards. If we will cooperate in doing all we can every hour and minute of the day and night and do our best to spread the doctrine of fire prevention through education of our youth and through them indoctrinate their parents and friends we have a chance of putting this annual toll of lives lost and property destroyed at a very much lower figure."

Mr Scott's address was followed by a short address by Major Norman Imrie of Columbus, program director of the Ohio Fire Safety Committee. Major Imrie said "there are only three types of persons present when the average fire occurs. One is a man who doesn't know what to do in case of fire, the second is a man who doesn't know what to do, but is willing to learn, and the third is a man who doesn't know what to do and doesn't care much about learning. Of these three types the hope for education in fire prevention depends on the second type the man who doesn't know what to do but is willing to learn."

Separate Sessions Held

Meetings of the joint conference began with separate sessions at Hotel Harding after the registration of attending agents and visitors concluded at 3 15 p m.

The insurance agents meeting began its first session with J D Torrance of Marion presiding. Speaker was J C Bishop, assistant secretary of the Ohio Farmers Indemnity Co of LeRoy. His subject was "The Storekeeper's Liability Policy" which was an explanation of a new "package style" policy giving the retail merchant complete liability coverage against all usual risks.

Milton R. Bennett of Sidney, Fifth district association trustee, presided at the session when officers were elected. Retiring presi-

Schwellenbach, Head Of Labor Dept., Dies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach died today.

The White House announced Schwellenbach passed away at 4.40 a. m. EDT, (3.40 EST) at Walter Reed hospital. He had been ill several weeks.

He was 53 years old and had been labor department chief since June 30, 1945.

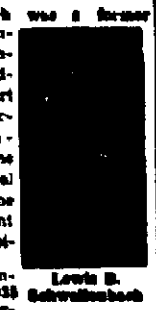
Mrs Schwellenbach was at his bedside at the time of his death.

The White House said death resulted from "cardiac failure which complicated his recent illness."

President Truman, now on the West coast, has been notified of his death.

No funeral arrangements have been made, the White House statement said.

Schwellenbach was a former Democratic senator from Washington and Federal district court judge. He succeeded Frances Perkins, one of the original members of the late President Roosevelt's cabinet.



Lewis B. Schwellenbach

He was a senator from 1938 until his resignation on December 16, 1940, to accept the federal judgeship in Washington—a post he resigned to join the cabinet.

In Failing Health

Illness had prevented Schwellenbach from taking an active part in recurring labor crisis of the last several months. Last April he took a cruise to Havana in an effort to regain his health but was removed from shipboard in New York harbor on his return. He was taken to a hospital on Governors Island for treatment of a respiratory infection.

President Truman's personal physician, Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, attended him then.

Last July while confined to the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., after suffering a heavy cold, reports began circulating that he might resign.

The new Taft-Hartley labor law, coupled with sharp appropriations cuts, had stripped his once powerful department almost to a skeleton framework.

Aides who visited him at that time, however, came away with word that he was mapping a fight to rebuild the department.

The Taft-Hartley law, effective Aug. 22, 1947, took away the conciliation service from Schwellenbach and set it up as an independent agency.

But although Schwellenbach indicated that he would continue to fight, he did not rule out the possibility of resigning, and those close to him believe he would probably step out if he could "swap" back to his first love—a Federal judgeship.

Schwellenbach left the Federal district court in his home state of Washington to head the labor department.

Truman Expresses "Deepest Grief"

By The Associated Press

OLYMPIA, Wash, June 10—President Truman was notified by telephone early today of the death of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach whom he regarded as one of his closest friends.

"I have learned with deepest grief of the death of Lewis Schwellenbach," he said in a statement read to reporters by one of his staff.

"He was my warm personal friend. He was a great senator, a great judge and a great secretary of labor."

The child tumbled from the rear door of an automobile into the path of a large tractor trailer which ran over his body.

With his mother, the child had been visiting relatives in Nevada and Upper Sandusky and were enroute to a train to return to Columbus when the accident occurred.

MUROC BASE IN CALIFORNIA SCENE OF TEST

Symington Says Experimental Craft Has Made "Many" Such Flights.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—The Air Force's XS-1 rocket plane has flown "much faster than the speed of sound many times," Air Secretary W Stuart Symington announced today.

The original supersonic flight was made last October at the Muroc (Cal.) air force base. Subsequent test flights all have been made there.

The speed of sound is about 700 miles an hour at sea level.

Symington made the announcement at a press conference. Air experts called the supersonic flight the greatest achievement in flight history since the Kitty Hawk, N. C., flight of the Wright brothers.

Capt. Charles E. Yeager, 25-year-old air force ace, became the first human in history to fly faster than sound.

Yeager is stationed with the fighter flight test branch at Wright Field, Dayton. He was born in Myra, W Va., and was graduated from high school at Hamlin, W. Va., before entering service.

Undoubtedly the plane was flying at a high altitude. The speed of sound decreases with increased height. For example, the speed of sound at 40,000 feet is 660 miles per hour.

Secrecy Imposed

Symington said he could not reveal more about the flight because of national security. He said any details might give other nations the benefit of air force research.

While Symington did not claim any altitude or speed records, the rocket plane obviously shattered unofficially all existing world speed records.

"The information that the XS-1 has flown faster than the speed of sound many times is all the air force can release with regard to the performance," Symington said.

The XS-1 is a small, straight-winged plane with a needle nose and a stubby, fat body. It is powered by four rocket motors. This is the first rocket fighter of the Air Force.

First On Record

Symington was asked if other planes had gone faster than the speed of sound.

"Not in level flight, but possibly in a dive," he said.

The plane that pierced the hitherto impenetrable supersonic wall was conceived in 1945. A scant year later, it was in ready-to-fly form.

Under full power, XS-1 will stay aloft only about 2½ minutes and probably will fly little more than 100 miles from take off to landing.

It is the most rugged plane ever built. It was designed to withstand the tremendous forces that exert themselves in the supersonic realm.

From the XS-1 and its contemporaries—some flying, some building—science is getting the knowledge to build supersonic aircraft that will wage future wars high in the upper atmosphere, far out of sight and hearing of earth-bound folk.

While the XS-1 is designed for 80,000-foot altitude, one of its successors is being designed reportedly for 200,000 feet.

Crammed With Instruments

The tiny bell rocket plane is crammed with miraculous instruments, which record what happens in flight and send messages to the ground for analysis by scientists.

Fully loaded, it weighs 13,000 pounds, but 3,000 of these pounds are taken up by the fuel burned in the four-cylinder rocket motor.

While the XS-1 was designed for 1,700 miles per hour at 80,000 feet, its present power plant is supposed to push it a "mere" 1,000 miles an hour at 60,000 feet—more than 1½ times the speed of sound at that altitude.

The fuel is alcohol and liquid oxygen. Forced into the burners by gaseous nitrogen. If the nitrogen system is replaced by a turbine pump, as is planned, the air force believes the XS-1 may reach its design speed and stay aloft 4.2 minutes.

ORDER TRUCE IN HOLY LAND

Friday 1 A. M. Set for Halt on Killings; Optimism in UN Circles Cautious.

By The Associated Press

Arab and Jewish troops in Palestine were being ordered today to stop killing each other, effective at 1 a. m. EST Friday.

Only cautious optimism was expressed around the United Nations that the four-week armistice and arms embargo would endure. There was even less hope that, in four weeks of wrangling on the island of Rhodes, a formula for permanent peace would emerge.

It was difficult to see how the basic issue of partition could be resolved, short of armed intervention by the UN—and that might lead to even greater, world-wide conflict.

"We have achieved only the first step," Count Folke Bernadotte, the UN mediator, commended in Cairo on the unconditional acceptance of the truce by Israel and the seven warring Arab states.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, once the Jewish underground but now part of Israel's army, rebuked its own government for accepting the truce. It wanted all Arabs withdrawn from Palestine and said the truce terms would mean a deterioration of Israel's political and military status.

The outburst possibly is a prelude to Irgun defiance of the truce.

The Arabs have contended that Irgun and the even more extremist Stern gang have broken past truce records and that Haganah, now the army of Israel, has stepped in and consolidated the gains.

The United Nations tackled the problem of Russia's request that Red army men be sent to Palestine as truce observers. Bernadotte invited 21 officers each from the U. S., France and Bel-

11 Respond To Blood Donor Plea for Ill Boy

Eleven replies in response to the appeal issued yesterday in The Star by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Matson of 693 Woodrow avenue for blood transfusions for David DeHaven, 14-year-old second cousin of Mrs. Matson who is seriously ill in the University hospital in Columbus from leukemia, were received last night by the Matson's.

Calls from Marion residents, who expressed their desire to help the boy, if possible, started coming to the Matson home yesterday as soon as The Star, in which the story was carried, was delivered, Mrs. Matson said today. She said several of the calls came even before the paper was received at the Matson home.

While the blood type needed for David is Type A-1-B, several here who volunteered blood transfusions, Mrs. Matson stated, said their type was AB. This, she learned from the hospital last night, can be used in most cases as it usually crosses with the others.

David, son of Mr and Mrs. Earl DeHaven of Dayton, is given blood transfusions every other day, and he is reported to be "holding his own," Mrs. Matson learned in a long distance telephone conversation with the boy's father last night. Mr and Mrs. Matson are going to the hospital Sunday to see David.

David became suddenly ill about four weeks ago and was admitted to the Columbus hospital last week.

Mrs. Matson wishes to express her gratefulness to the people of Marion who have offered to give blood transfusions and to those who, although they cannot donate blood, called to inquire about David's condition.

RADIO "HAMS" PLAN TWO-DAY PROGRAM

Marion County Amateurs Expected To Take Part.

On June 12 and 13 the Central Ohio Radio club of amateur "ham" radio operators, in connection with the American Radio Relay league, will hold a field day for testing emergency communication facilities, the Relay league reports. A test station will be installed on the C. W. Fraley farm, which is located about three miles southwest of Delaware near highway 42.

Probable Marion county operators who will participate in the test are Bernie Harris, W8THW, Chick Walton, W8QCQ, C. C. Dengler, W8BIV, R. F. Norris, W8YAU, and George E. Griffith, W8ZXU, of Marion; Garland Shorter, W8NQF, and Murray Gast, W8OHV, of Prospect and G. E. Dodds, W8TZI, of LaRue.

Members of the national association of amateur radio operators, generally content with talking over personal matters with fellow operators all over the world once a year become part of a nationwide preparedness program to fit themselves and their equipment to serve their communities in event of community disasters. On the two days designated for the operating contest, amateurs all over the country will try their skills and especially built equipment in a "dress rehearsal" in event of actual emergencies.

Apparatus used on this occasion is designed to have a maximum of portability and simplicity and to operate from automobile batteries or generating plants independent of commercial power lines. The Central Ohio Radio club will endeavor to communicate with as many similar stations as possible in all parts of the nation. Contest points will be given for each contact and the call letters W8AJC issued by the federal communications commission, will be used. The achievements of the winner and the runners-up in the contest will be given recognition in QST, the official journal of the national society.

Officers of the club, and other of its members have been invited to witness club personnel and equipment in action. Other visiting interested amateurs or communal visitors are welcome Sunday afternoon.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Joe, a recent college graduate, writes me from his home town where he is very lonely. He says he envies me living in the big city and having a job where I meet interesting people.

I suppose I do. I've had letters from Anna Maria's sister to Zsa Zsa Gabor. The latter never answered any of them.

The interesting people I meet are mostly those who have doubled back like a fox to leave no trail.

Hal Boyle

What I envy Joe for is his dream of the future. He sees himself as a famous writer, a great lover, a man of the world. He has a dream of himself as a man of power and wealth.

Dreams are the bricks we build our castles in the air with. Joe is making his dreams and aims. They are good ones. But he has to start earning a living. That means he's got to put his dreams grease fuel in the mundane engine of reality.

Joe has earned one time when they've made me and women feel the boss ain't going to place it.

And I know how you feel, Joe, proud a little scared a lot asking yourself what comes next. Don't ever get cocksure. Every man who got out of a penitentiary felt that way—a little afraid of the open places and wondering if there was a place for him.

"IS THERE A PLACE for you? Let's take up Jane College first, Joe and then we'll deal with you.

Jane as a man I advise to you is short and brief. This is because I have learned that a good woman is born with more wisdom than a good man dies with.

For all your accent on grey matter your problem is to marry some unworthy dope, give him courage through you, be children by him and raise them in your own cheerful image.

"Nothing else will make you live so long and happy. Behind you may be the sad sack you helped through chemistry and American government. If you've known and loved him for years, yes. Famous marriages usually last. And if you don't say I led the altar with him, some high school gal will.

"As for you, Joe, do you like big-domed worried look. Sure you've got to get a job—but people have been doing that since Adam was able to raise Cain.

"YOU'RE LUCKY. Getting some kind of a job is going to be fairly easy. It wasn't always that way. When I got my sheepskin in 1932 we could have used the war, too. We needed a suit. Some of the boys who showed up for a diploma moved right over to the next line: the breadline.

But at all times getting a job is easier than holding it. It takes the long pull. How can you get ahead? Through hard work and friendship. But the friends make the difference. You will find there is more kindness in the world than your history lessons caused you to expect and less bare-faced evil than you thought to meet.

Don't take too seriously the idea that you are the hope of tomorrow. You are also the educated fear of tomorrow. I never met a good man who didn't admit he had learned something from an older man he felt was better than himself. Yet that doesn't mean we are going backward.

The world is half afraid of new ideas, but there is nothing that can put you higher quicker than a good new idea. Ideas are all around you. For 2,000 years women used straight hair pins. In your own fortune lived a man who put a crinkle in the hairpin and made a million dollars from it. You don't have to invent the airplane to make a living.

"FOR THE REST of it, boys and girls help more people than help you. Never break the golden chain of kindness.

"Don't ever yield to the curse of prosperity or poverty, which is cynicism. Don't marry a poor man for his money or a rich woman for her opinions. Both can change.

"Keep a kind thought for pupa. Never be too busy to play. As a well known Chicago hotel proprietor once said when asked how he got started in business:

"My father owned a hotel. One day I met him in the lobby and he was talking to me.

"Then I said to myself, 'If you're educated upstarts plan to apply for my job, put up your dukes.'

The world is a way all your own.

Everything To Gain

THE Palestine truce arranged by the United Nations gives both sides everything to gain and nothing to lose

It must be plain to the combatants by this time that they are involved in something vastly bigger than a squabble over who is to live where in the Holy Land. Even if they were fighting a civil war, which they haven't been because both sides depend on outside help and most of the Arabian fighting forces are in Palestine as invaders they would be aware of the international issues at stake.

In other words there can be no war in Palestine worthy of the name without the consent and support of outsiders. It is apparent that the outsiders are in a mood to take second thought on the matter and that this mood has been conveyed to the combatants.

The truce is to last four weeks which should be long enough to discover how to keep Palestine from turning into another Spain.

The Facts of Life

CONGRESS has given the armed services substantially what they asked for in the way of funds—some $13,500,000,000 plus carryovers. Now it is trying to work out a way to give them the men to staff such a fighting force for dollars alone won't do it.

The senate has been laboring mightily to shape a presentable draft bill, never an easy task and even more difficult in an election year. The bill has had a rocky road but seems likely to pass. In the house, however, passage is doubtful.

If the measure should be shunted into a dead-end, the house will be forgetting that the nation can't buy a fighting force with dollars. It can set up a foreign legion to man outposts, as the senate proposes in its plan for permitting 25,000 aliens to join the armed forces. It can appropriate huge funds for defense; but those sums will stand for naught unless the manpower is there. In its wrestling with the draft bill congress has come to grips with one of the harsh facts of life. It has approved the wherewithal for a 790,000-man Army. Now it has to provide the men.

Columbus Voters Said Yes

A SUBSTANTIAL majority of Columbus voters in a special election have voted yes on a payroll-income tax of one-half of one per cent. The purpose of the tax which went into effect six months ago, is to pull the city out of a financial hole.

The issue was whether Columbus would drift into bankruptcy or take positive action to obtain adequate municipal income. A majority of voters confirmed a decision to obtain the income. The same decision was made some years ago in Toledo—by voters themselves.

Needless to say, the issue of city income and payroll taxes remains open. Nothing whatever is settled by adding one more tax to the taxpayers' burden. Columbus, Toledo and all other cities that have experimented with this kind of levy have done so because of expediency not conviction. They chose a bad tax because it was the only way out of a predicament.

It is a bad tax because it adds needlessly to the total sum of money taken from American taxpayers. There is enough public income being collected to cover all necessary expenditures—if unnecessary expenditures were eliminated.

City residents are sending millions to state treasuries and federal treasuries and scrambling for pennies to pay for government at home. It doesn't make any sense. Reform is overdue—and in the meantime cities facing bankruptcy are being forced to adopt still more tax levies to avert disaster.

One Way To Get Wheat

FRANCE has adopted a version of the farm subsidy by taxing land according to the crop it grows. There is a high tax on land given over to an unimportant crop like buckwheat or a slow-growing vegetable like asparagus. For wheat land the tax is very low, with the result this year's crop will be of record size. This is important in France where bread is sold by the yard.

Such a system wouldn't be feasible under our system which makes property taxes the revenue standby of local governments but it is an interesting version of the subsidy idea.

Reports on Loyalty

IN LOYALTY checks on 1,955,314 federal employes, the FBI has uncovered evidence in 4,137 cases to warrant further investigation. This is about two-tenths of one per cent. It has sent 1,147 cases to the civil service commission for evaluation, which doesn't necessarily mean dismissal.

The FBI's report should stand as an effective answer to those who fear the government is shot through with Communists. Doubtless there are some in the federal service who should be dismissed. That's the primary purpose of the FBI investigations. But the inquiries also are bringing the loyalty problem into proper perspective and relieving the vast majority of federal employes of the possibility of an undeserved stigma.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

The Bipartisan Foreign Policy.

BACK in the 1944 campaign Tom Dewey was faced by a dilemma. He had information which would embarrass Mr. Roosevelt during a campaign but which also might have been detrimental to the conduct of the war. It is possible that had he exposed that information to the public view he might have been elected president of the United States. George Marshall, then chief of staff was aware that Dewey possessed this information. He sent a colonel to intercept Dewey in Oklahoma requesting him in the national interest not to use it. Dewey, without making any agreement, accepted the word of the chief of staff on the conduct of the war. The Japanese purple code was the issue—Dewey knew that we had broken it. The Japanese apparently did not. In the end Dewey said nothing about the conduct of the war and left himself with not a major issue the worst of which we are now beginning to learn.

SOKOLSKY

Again at the time of Dumbarton Oaks it was being planned to form an agreement for the three powers to rule the world. This Dewey denounced as laying the foundation for future trouble because it would be an unjust peace. At the suggestion of Cordell Hull secretary of state, Dewey appointed John Foster Dulles to represent him in working out policies which would be acceptable to both political parties and which would present to the world a united front. The results of these conferences have been called the bipartisan foreign policy.

Value Unquestioned

Wherever the bipartisan foreign policy was adhered to by the administration it served the country well. John Foster Dulles and Senator Arthur Vandenberg had a large voice in determining policy at Dumbarton Oaks at San Francisco and at other international conferences.

However in other matters outside of the international conferences there has been no bipartisan foreign policy. The administration acted wholly on its own and handed the Republicans a completed situation and demanded that there should be uncritical cooperation. This was true of the Greek and Chinese policies, the latter representing the most unnecessary and disastrous failure on the part of the administration. The ERP policies which the administration tried to handle alone were finally shaped by the Republicans in congress.

The crux on them is that in some matters there has been a bipartisan foreign policy while with regard to others the administration has acted on its own. Whenever the bipartisan foreign policy was pursued the discussion and compromises led to a wiser handling of the situation whenever the administration acted wholly on its own it permitted itself to improvise to act politically and to suffer from such confusions as is exemplified by its dancing this way and that on the Palestine question.

Played a Limit

Senator Vandenberg has played an important role in this development. He had been one of Mr. Roosevelt's severest critics. He fought for a just peace. He said: "I am prepared by effective international cooperation to do our full part in charting happier and safer tomorrows. But I am not prepared to guarantee permanently the spirit of an unjust peace. It ain't in it."

This was in 1945. The responsibility of leadership of the party in power in the senate had the effect however of modifying that position. In 1945, he was fighting for justice in 1946 his task became to make the bipartisan foreign policy work. The point is that the details of management have forced him into the position of accepting whatever the state department orders without demanding the right to a voice in the formulation of policy. He therefore found himself the floor manager of the state department's policies many of which, like the British loan have soured. It has been a worrisome and improper position for the leader of the opposition and has led to contradictions and even to opposition in his own party. It was not intended that Senator Vandenberg should represent the administration in congress.

Nobody questions Senator Vandenberg's sincerity. Nobody can doubt that the foreign policy of the United States is a mess of confusion, a chaos beyond understanding. In that chaos, Senator Vandenberg shares that much responsibility. He did not hold the state department rigidly in line. Maybe it could not be done.

Truman's Odyssey

By Raymond Moley

AS THIS writer witnessed the preparation of Chicago for President Truman's visit, his mind went back to other visits to that city by candidates and president-candidates. Chicago is in many ways the political as well as the railroad center of the nation. Innumerable great political dramas have been staged there. It cannot be ignored in any national campaigning. It has a lusty, noisy way of greeting the notable and the great.

MOLEY

True, the big turnouts that greet a favorite political figure are not altogether spontaneous. The crowds that met Al Smith in 1928 and Franklin D. Roosevelt again and again were well augmented and organized by the Cermak and Kelly machines. The boys were not invited, they were ordered to turn out. But the occasions were warm and unforgettable.

The Truman visit had a note of sadness. Chicago was well aware of the coming of the visitor. Police appeared in great numbers. The appropriate routine was followed. Sirens screamed and the streets came to life. But the atmosphere was not that often or years. The current Democratic leader in Chicago made his views known some time ago. He wishes the President would step down as a candidate and be pulled for Eisenhower as a substitute. This is not the way to invite the ward leaders to do their stuff when a President visits town. Consequently there was less organized enthusiasm than is usual.

GOP Assistance

An important Republican leader in Chicago actually said that his party helped swell the crowd. "We want to keep Truman as the candidate," he said.

The Omaha reception was most depressing. Warm words followed between the local people and the President's associates. But the small turnout was foreordained. President Truman simply cannot elicit the response in the cities that might elect him. It is not his fault. It is simply that he had the misfortune to follow Roosevelt.

An eastern Democratic chieftain in private comment on the trip suggests that no one in the President's party on the train has any political ability at all. The fear of making the trip look political excludes those who could really help the harassed Chief Executive.

No Improvement In Sight

When the President gets to the West Coast his embarrassments will accumulate. In Seattle he will meet his old friend, Governor Wallgren who wants to run for the vice presidency and who cannot possibly carry his state again. Politically Wallgren is an even more deplorable state than Truman.

The Democratic party in California is torn with dissension. The recent primary showed an immense ascendency of Republican strength. The President will appear in Berkeley at a colorful academic occasion. Then there will be a speech in Los Angeles under not very imposing auspices. And then back to Independence among old friends. Old friends are the best of it is true. But in politics there aren't enough of them to make up for those more recent friends who are ready to desert a sinking candidacy.

Meanwhile like a plucky man the President plays out the schedule.

An Israeli

A citizen of Israel should be called an Israeli, suggests the foreign secretary of the new Jewish state in Palestine. His preference follows an Arab-favored style which misses leaps of citizens of Iraq and Baghdadis of Baghdad's inhabitants.

The secretary breaks no rules with the word he proposes. Even if he had observed National Geographic Society it seems that rules for forming words to identify people were made to be broken.

The Yank at Oxford is an Oxonian, his Cambridge rival is a Cantabrigian. Liverpool is full of Liverpudlians. Manchester holds Mancunians. Glasgow folk gaze off toward Norway and call themselves Glaswegians.

Use Brummagem advisedly for a man from Birmingham. Haligonian is apt in Halifax. Aberdonians and Dundonians are at home in Aberdeen and Dundee. The Scilly Isles boast Scillonians. The Manxman and his tailless cat belong on the Isle of Man.

Lisbon breaks up and becomes Lisbonian. Plymouth strangely drops it and becomes Plymothian. Guam adds a rather useless ex available to become Guamanian.

Even there's the Latin American influence. Angelenos speed around Los Angeles. Barbarenos live in Santa Barbara. In South American Sao Paulo has its Paulistas.

The chief value of superior knowledge is that it leads to a performing manhood.—Bovee.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

The Atchison, Topeka and SF

Seventy-six newspapermen are accompanying President Truman on his current western tour.

That relieves him of any worry of not attracting a crowd.

One reason for so many newspapermen is that Truman is speaking extemporaneously along the way. Nobody knows in advance what he is going to say, most likely including Harry.

Truman makes a much better impression that way. His prepared speeches sound as though the Republicans prepared them.

Of course a man who talks off-the-cuff works under a handicap in that he can't roll up his sleeves.

Incidentally the President may have an ulterior motive in taking so many newspapermen along. He's glad of a chance to sell a lot of tickets. I mean now that the government is running the railroads.

She Had So Many Children

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, June 10, 1938.

Ohio legislators faced the necessity of shaving enough money from revenue sources or levying new taxes to finance relief during the remainder of the year. Since it was an election year it was predicted there would be no new taxes.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Warwick of Uhler avenue.

Six Marion women escaped with bruises when their automobile overturned near Burlington, Colo. They were Dr. Maud L. Bull and niece Miss June Robins of South State street, Miss Luella Scholl of Davids street, Mrs. Ella Boyer of Delaware avenue, Mrs. Hattie Gompf of Delaware avenue and Miss Elizabeth Hinklin of East Church street.

More than 1,000 couples attended the policemen's and firemen's ball sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at Crystal Lake park.

Mrs. Fanny Benson of Orchard street left for Tampa, Fla. to attend the forty-third annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians.

Mrs. Robert Wheeler of Chicago avenue entertained with a dinner complimenting Miss Frances Kraner whose marriage to Clifford Strine of Waldo was to take place the following Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, June 10, 1928.

Dr. U. S. Davis resigned as pastor of Trinity Baptist church. It was announced he had not accepted a permanent appointment but for the following two months would fill Baptist pulpits at Boston and Lynn, Mass.

A two weeks revival service came to a close at the First Church of the Nazarene and it was announced that more than 3,000 chapters of the Bible had been read during the two weeks. The services had been in charge of the pastor, Rev. G. E. Waddle.

Warren W. Ballantine of Bellefontaine avenue left with a party of students and professors from Ohio State university on a two weeks' metallurgy-inspection trip in Canada.

Gap Between U. S., Britain

By Walter Lippmann

NOW that the new British ambassador Sir Oliver Franks has had a chance to unpack his bags and shake hands there is a revival of confidence that British-American relations which have been going from bad to worse can be repaired.

Nothing in the whole field of international relations is so important. Unless it can be done nothing else that the two governments have promised to do for freedom recovery and peace can be done.

The United Nations will collapse and if it does, then almost certainly the American people in their disillusionment will for a long time to come be in no mood for international collaboration. The European Recovery Program will fail and will be abandoned. Europe will become hopelessly disunited. And anarchy will spread from the Middle East into Africa and Asia.

LIPPMANN

Working in partnership there is a chance that things can be put in order with the English-speaking nations separated and opposed, there is no chance.

It is the fashion to say that British-American relations have been disrupted by the disputes over Palestine. To any one who has had long and intimate knowledge of British-American affairs and has observed closely the course of events before during and since the war that will seem a most superficial explanation.

For the degrading quarrel about Palestine is not the cause but it is the ugly consequence of a breakdown of intercourse and communication between the two governments and the two nations.

This breakdown began with the death of Roosevelt and the defeat of Churchill. It was accelerated by the departure from Washington of Lord Halifax, and indeed of almost all the men, including the key figures among the Americans who had made the wartime partnership work.

Bevin and Marshall

Mr. Bevin and Mr. Marshall have been quite incapable of dealing with each other except at arms length, quite incapable of becoming articulate on the great questions which have to do with the sudden rise of America to world power and the no less sudden but epoch-making change in the condition of the Commonwealth and the position of the Empire.

Neither the heads of the governments nor their foreign ministers have had genuine and intimate consultation and there has been lacking almost altogether the informal but nevertheless influential intercourse among officials, editors, journalists, and leaders of opinion which, beginning when Lord Lothian was ambassador did so much to create the partnership.

In the past year this intercourse has been reduced to a kind of press agency. But the two countries have long since outgrown that sort of thing that is to say the mimeographed handout the official formula the polite brush-off the excruciatingly funny anecdote, and "won't you have a drink?"

If there is misunderstanding now about Palestine about the Brussels pact about the ERP about the sterling area about commercial policy about the United Nations about the reorganization of Europe it is because channels of understanding have been badly clogged.

Hope for Beginning

They will have to be reopened and one may hope that with Mr. Douglas Mr. Harriman and Mr. Finletter abroad, Sir Oliver Franks here in Washington a beginning can be made.

The difficulties are considerable on both sides of the ocean. For here at the end of the Truman administration, there is no longer coherence in the conduct of affairs, in Britain so at least it appears to Americans at this distance the Labor government is so self-centered on its domestic difficulties and intentions that the great problems of the outer world would seem to receive little attention from the best minds of the government, and to be farmed out to weary bureaucrats and archaic survivors from a different historical epoch.

Nevertheless, there is so great a community of interest and sympathy between the two peoples that in one way or another they will manage to restore communications and resume their partnership.

Schools in Germany

A new educational system for Germany is planned and ready to function along American lines when the fall school term begins according to Dr. Herman Wells president of Indiana university.

He has spent seven months as cultural and educational adviser to Gen. Lucius D. Clay. Dr. Wells indicated that the U. S. plan for the State Department to take over occupation rule of Germany from the Army had been indefinitely delayed with the cultural and educational program now being set up entirely in the civil affairs section of the Army.

Dr. Wells said a "staff of experts had been retained. Good men have been named to the educational department. The plan of education is democratic in every detail. However a minimum of 25 years is necessary to inculcate the Germans with democratic principles. But we now are prepared to begin the job."

Why Dramatic Review Readers Go Mad

"People of taste and talent have made an unhackneyed musical play out of Sleepy Hollow. Mr. and Mrs. Maloney have caught the quality of a legend which is artless and joyous. Beware of the Dog

By TRUMAN TWILL

This is an apology for human beings who get off to a slow start in the morning. There isn't a thing in the world wrong with them except that their minds are full of sleep and bitterness, their souls crammed with hate and misgivings and their stomachs empty of everything but bile and dyspeptic twitters.

They deserve consideration in their affliction. Many of them rally after an hour or two of morose broodings and by the middle of the day can be trusted to roam at large without biting. They are not really responsible for their actions until they have pulled the cobwebs out of their minds.

They don't ask for much, according to the lights on this matter—nothing but to be let alone in the darkened rooms of their dim consciousness until they are ready to receive visitors and grapple with reality on their own terms.

They do not want to hear any radio programs before then. They do not want to discuss the days news. They do not want to engage in banter or persiflage. They do not want to be asked questions. They do not want to be bathed in warm sunlight or the radiant affections of others.

They are not dangerous unless stirred to action. They will not kick a dog, throw a shoe through a window, raise a hand in anger, smash a dish or utter an oath unless stirred to anger. All they ask is to be permitted to crouch in a dark, dank cave for a blessed interval while they nurse their grudge against the human race.

Later in the day when they feel like it, they will come out wreathed in smiles and full of the old convention spirit. Their lucid interval of bitter hatred will be safely behind them and they will be prepared once more to pretend that they love their fellowmen and all his works.

They will go even further than that. They will pretend this to the extreme of staying up half the night to practice their human relations, thus making it a certainty that the next morning they again will be full of queasy doubts and sour misgivings. They cannot help this. It is something in their nature that causes them to be that way.

They do not admit they are a problem, because from their point of view all problems are created by human beings who wake up in the morning seeing cheerful and reasonably satisfied with things as they are and set out to make the most of them. All that an early morning grouch asks is the immediate and absolute extinction of happiness on the face of the earth for at least two hours after rising, also the abolition of conversation if that can be arranged by cutting out the tongues of gabby offenders.

Bear with them. They can't help it. But stay out of their way. They are dangerous.

COLLEGE GRADUATES HAVE FEW CHILDREN

By The United Press

BOSTON, June 10—The vast majority of college graduates aren't producing enough children to replace themselves, a survey by the population reference bureau, showed

Of 138 colleges reporting on their twenty-fifth reunion classes, graduates of only 14 colleges were reproducing themselves at the normal replacement rate of 2.1 children per graduate.

Twelve of these were men's colleges, according to the bureau's college project director, Dr Clarence J Gamble of Milton.

The birth rate, he said, is highest among western college men Utah State agricultural college tops the list in both the men's and women's divisions Men graduates of that college have produced an average of 2.90 children while its co-eds have given birth to an average of 2.71 children

Tufts College (Mass) men were second in the men's division with a 2.44 average, other men's colleges that exceeded the normal replacement rate were McAlester (Minn.) 2.36, William Penn (Ia) 2.29, Hope (Mich.) 2.29, James Millikin (Ill.) 2.27, University of Detroit 2.25, Ohio Wesleyan 2.20, Syracuse 2.19, University of New Hampshire 2.13 South Dakota State 2.13 and Gustavos Adolphus (Minn) 2.11

Wilson Penn was the only other college with women graduates to qualify with a 2.10 rate

Gamble attributed the low birth rates among college graduates to economic causes "combined with the careful planning and ambitions acquired through the graduate's education".

HOLDS TIME BASIS OF WAGE PAY WRONG

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, June 16—James F Lincoln president of the Lincoln Electric Co., Cleveland, said today most of labor and industry are using an inefficient system of wage rates based on time work instead of production

In a statement prepared for the joint congressional labor committee he said incentive pay systems would increase both wages and production

The one fundamental difficulty with the present almost universal approach to labor-management relations is that labor is paid on the wrong basis" he said

"Wages generally are paid for the presence of the worker in the plant instead of paying for the work he does. This is so obviously a mistake that it seems childish to mention it."

He said his company with an incentive pay system, has raised wages until the average is more than double for that of industry in general while its prices are less than half that for comparable products.

Lincoln said the government should

1 Give positive support to incentive management

2 Keep "bureaucracy" from interfering with incentive plans

3 "Eliminate the power" of union leaders to call strikes "against the will of union members"

4 Provide an incentive tax program

5 Refrain from "forcing" an employe into a union "where he is one of a flock without hope of advancement or pride in his individuality"

TRUMAN PROMISES EXTENDED STUMPING

By The Associated Press

OLYMPIA Wash June 9— President Truman promised in a long distance attack on congress today that he would make more extensive speaking campaign when things warm up and we get into politics

The Chief Executive spoke with a trainside audience at Everett last night about his campaign prospects in the fall

Upon leaving Seattle and word from the crowd and being invited to enter a salmon derby he said he didn't know whether he would be successful as he didn't know the conditions of the derby but he would do my damndest just as he does everything else

To audiences after audiences in transside and other appearances the President suggested the possibility for a meeting between the issues of the campaign

And elsewhere during the day he has attacked congress for failing to go along with his recommendations and farm recommendations

His remark to reporters at Spokane that the present congress is the worst in his memory he first said of the worst since the first one met drew immediate response from Republican congressmen

Mr Truman scheduled to speak at a series of five major addresses at Seattle at 4 30 p m (Eastern Standard Time) today in which he was expected to outline new proposals and reiterate administration demands for the passage development of northwestern river basins

RAIL MEN PROTEST BAN ON STRIKES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 10 — Three railroad unions told Federal Judge T Alan Goldsborough today the government doesn't have the right to seek a court order banning them from striking

There has been no real employer-employe relationship between the unions and the government since the government seized the railroads last month to prevent a strike, the unions contended

Carl McFarland counsel for the Engineers Firemen and Switchmen sought to persuade Goldsborough to dismiss a temporary order he issued May 10 to prevent a strike scheduled for the next day

The justice department wants Goldsborough to issue a permanent court ban to replace the present temporary order which expires tomorrow

McFarland contended that congress by setting up elaborate procedures in the railway labor act had intended "there shall be no injunctions in cases such as these"

Goldsborough ruled in the John L Lewis case of 1948, that the Norris-LaGuardia act of 1932 does not prohibit injunctions in labor disputes involving the federal government and its own employes The supreme court later upheld Goldsborough's decision

DAIRY QUEEN CHOSEN IN GALION CONTEST

Select Mrs. Beatrice Monroe First of Six Finalists.

Special to The Star

GALION, June 16 — Beatrice Shockley Monroe, comely wife of Charles F. Monroe, III, is today hailed as Galion's dairy queen. She was chosen in the finals Wednesday night in the contest sponsored here by the Galion Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Galion and Crestline Milk Dealers association.

The finals were held in the American Legion home at 8 o'clock with four contestants present of the six young women who had reached the finals. The winner was chosen for beauty, poise and personality. The young women appeared in street dresses.

Mrs. Monroe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shockley of the South Street road. She is 19 years old, five feet, six and one-half inches tall, and weighs 128 pounds. She is employed in the cost department at the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company. When the state dairy queen contest is held in Columbus, she will represent Galion.

The other contestants who reached the finals were Jane Andrews Cover, Betty Jean Andrews, and Mary Gartner.

Judging was in charge of two Shelby men, Herbert Golz, a past state vice president of the Jaycees, Louis Wright, president, and three Galion men, Dr. C. C. Heudorf, Lawrence Bennett, and Robert Eichhorn, president of the Galion Jaycees.

A bouquet of flowers, gifts from local merchants, and the cash prize from the local Jaycees, were presented to Mrs. Monroe.

The contest here was in charge of a committee of Jaycees composed of Robert Thomas, Vaughn Miller and Charles Hinckley.

Each contestant had to be associated in some way with dairying. Eliminations were made from bathing suit photographs which the entrants had mailed in previously to the committee.

Piano Pupils Present Recital at Church

Piano pupils of Mrs Harry T. Williams were presented in two recitals recently at Emanuel Lutheran church. Parents and friends of the young people were guests for the programs.

On Friday night the following children presented solo, duet and ensemble compositions: Donald Robinson, Roger Denzer, Robert Griffith, Howard Klehm, Merl Coon, Waine Schaber, Shirley Pett, Carol Ann Middlemiss, Marsha Anthony, Geraldine Fogle, Mary Anne Huber, Joyce Judy, Beth Traxler, Gerry Fogle, Jack Niles, Dwight Shaffer, Lowell Gettman, Robert Hamor, Gilbert Herr, Roger Jamison, Alan Dee Hinklin, Mary Ann Makeever, Ramona Smith, Helen Brockleby, Carol Oberlander, Talmyr Metz, Joan Merrell, Julia Streitz, Suzanne McCurdy, Carol Sue Cookston, Constance Bartram and Susan Kinsler.

BURNED IN FUEL OIL BLAST

GALION—Gordon McCown of Iberia suffered painful burns when a can of fuel oil apparently exploded as he was pouring the oil into an asphalt heating machine at the Hoekstra Coal and Supply company here Wednesday. McCown is employed by the supply company and was alone. He was found in an unconscious condition by James Hoekstra. It is believed that McCown was pouring the oil too close to a flame heating device. He suffered second degree burns on the hands, arms, neck and chest, and was admitted to City hospital.

Rules on Funds For Football Equipment

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 16—Atty Gen. Hugh S Jenkins held today that public funds can not be legally spent for football equipment in schools' physical education programs.

His opinion went to the state bureau of inspection, which audits public school funds. The question originally was raised by J H O'Neill, principal of Maumee High school in Lucas county.

The equipment for most high school football teams is purchased with game gate receipts, which are not classed as public funds.

The harbor of Sydney Australia, extends 13 miles inland and has a shore line 188 miles long.

(Miss Janis, who was born Elsie Bierbower and was given the name Janis when she became a child stage entertainer, is a former Columbus, O., resident. Her father was a member of a Marion, county family.)

[illegible] Wednesday was fined $100 and costs and given a 30-day jail sentence. Because he was a veteran and said he needed hospitalization, McAllister's fine and sentence were suspended providing he leave Galion and remain out of town as long as Hartmann is mayor. City officials escorted McAllister to the line road. He left his wife and baby in Galion. McAllister was a previous offender of the law.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

IT WAS an historic event, but it didn't look it.

A bunch of tired men, old and middle aged yawning chewing the fat quietly in little groups while one of them kept on making his speech.

The senate at work on the draft bill late last night.

All week, all day yesterday, far into last night the senators debated the draft bill, trying to reach a vote.

James Marlow

Congress is supposed to quit next week at least for a while. But first the senators wanted to finish the draft bill.

If that bill becomes law — it won't until the house okays it, too — men 19 to 26 many thousands of them could be drafted for two years armed service.

So the lives of many men were involved in what the senate was doing. President Truman had asked for the draft—just in case.

As usual, in spite of its hurry the senate moved slowly, giving anyone who wanted to talk a chance to speak his piece.

When they're not interested the senators go outside for a smoke. And they go outside when they decide the speaker isn't going to change their minds.

Senator Morse, Oregon Republican, was talking. Some senators, a few sat stiffly upright, paying attention. A few others slumped in their seats.

That didn't bother Morse. He kept right on going. The galleries were packed with people.

HE SAID THE TIME of a draftee's military service should be cut down to 18 months.

Senators opened the swinging doors, got an earful, went outside for another smoke. Finally, Morse finished and sat down.

The gallery stirred. Would the senate vote now? Senators came thronging in from the smoking room.

But Senator Taylor, the Idaho Democrat who is running for vice president on Henry A. Wallace's third party ticket, got the floor.

Some of the senators drifted back outside. But Taylor's something of a wit. Some of the senators swung around in their swivel chairs to listen.

Taylor's opinion of the draft is no secret. He's against it. But what everyone waited for was how he'd say it this time.

TAYLOR WOUND UP and cut loose. Russia, he said, doesn't want war. A draft means regimenting the people, he said. He had said all that before.

Taylor talked about the draft for a while and started to talk about himself. "I've never been so broke in my life," Taylor said.

Some of the newsmen in the press gallery groaned. They had heard Taylor talk of his life and hard times before.

"I had to pay $15,000 for a horse when I came to Washington," he said. "Now I have it almost all paid for. All except $10,000."

The galleries giggled. And Senator Ellender, Louisiana Democrat sitting next to Taylor, buried his face in his hands and shook with laughter.

At last Taylor finished. The senators voted down Morse's idea. At 12:20 a. m. they quit for the night, after deciding for sure to vote on the draft today.

The reunion next year will be held the first Sunday in June at the same place.

Novice Cooks Watch Clock

CHILLED CREAM OF ASPARAGUS SOUP . . . Cooled.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One way to learn to cook, if you're a bride, is to get your husband to help you. If you persevere you may even write a cook book with him. That's what has just co-authored "Cooking by the Clock" (Farrar and Straus) with her husband, Clarke Mattimore.

Neither of the Mattimores—by their own confession—knew their way around a kitchen when they decided to try housekeeping together, after they learned how to cook various dishes out of various cook books they still ran into trouble. Somehow or other they never could get the darned meal on the table all at one time and at the right temperature and state of doneness. They realized their difficulty was the usual cook book with its individual recipes—they'd write a "meal book."

So their book charts its own course and outlines menus that tell, step by step, by diagrammed clocks—when to start to prepare each dish, how to cook everything in the proper order—and have things ready when they're supposed to be.

The Mattimores have done an admirable job. Each of their book's thirty or so menus gives recipes, an appropriate shopping list, the staples to be used, the utensils needed. In addition to the menus there are a number of other chapters—one that gives helpful hints, one on "The Cup That Cheers," one on Hors D'Oeuvres.

Here's a sample menu and recipe:

Hamburgers with Barbecue Sauce, Corn on the Cob, Frozen Fruit Salad, Buttered Rolls, Chocolate Upside-Down Cake, with Whipped Cream, Coffee.

The "Cooking by the Clock" recipe for Frozen Fruit Salad on the above menu interests me because every once in a while some one takes me aside, whispers something about a very special "quickie" and offers me the recipe. It always turns out to be a version of this Frozen Fruit Salad. Here's the Mattimores' directions for it:

Frozen Fruit Salad

One package cream cheese (3-ounces), 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 No. 2½ can fruit cocktail.

Mash the cheese with a fork and blend in mayonnaise. Drain the fruit cocktail saving the juice for another meal. Mix the fruit with cheese and mayonnaise. Put in tray in freezing compartment of a mechanical refrigerator and allow at least two hours to freeze thoroughly before serving. (Do not make this salad too far in advance or it will freeze solid.) Cut in squares and serve on crisp lettuce.

The Mattimores know it's important to serve salads frequently and the following recipe of theirs demonstrates the kind of dressing a man likes. If your husband won't collaborate with you on the whole meal perhaps he'll take over the greens department. Here's the dressing that will help build his salad reputation:

Anchovy Dressing

(French dressing with chopped anchovies added.)

One-half cup olive oil, ¼ cup wine vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon paprika, 1 clove garlic, 6 anchovy fillets.

Combine and beat together in a small bowl all ingredients except garlic and anchovies. Peel the garlic clove and put it into a jar or bottle. Pour in the dressing, cover tightly, and keep in the refrigerator until needed. Before serving, chop the anchovies fine, then add to the French dressing. Shake or beat the ingredients thoroughly before using. Remove the clove of garlic. Makes over ¾ cup dressing—plenty for 6 servings.

One tip all new cooks, and old ones too, ought to remember this summer is that it's wise to serve a hot dish at most meals. Even when the weather is warm we need some hot food for good digestion. However, when there's a warm casserole for the main course you may want to serve a chilled soup. In this case try the attractively garnished cream of asparagus shown in the accompanying photograph. To prepare it chill a 10½-ounce can of condensed asparagus soup in the refrigerator, open, add an equal quantity of cold milk or light cream and beat with a whisk or rotary beater to make it smooth. Garnish with thin radish slices and chopped chives and parsley.

SLAIN MAN'S WIDOW, FARMHAND, INDICTED

By International News Service

HAMILTON, June 10—Cyril Gordon, 36, and Mrs. Marie Cena Abbott, 48, were under joint indictment today for first degree murder in the mattock killing of the woman's prominent farmer husband.

The Butler county grand jury met in special recall session yesterday to consider the Memorial day slaying.

The body of Morris Abbott, 66, was found between tracks of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, the skull crushed by a tremendous blow.

Sheriff Charles B. Walke said Gordon took him to a Metamora, Ind., farm where the suspect had thrown away the mattock he used to kill Abbott.

Gordon, a former laborer for Abbott, said he returned to the Abbott farm the night of Memorial day and got into an argument with the farmer when Abbott refused to divorce his wife.

He said the older man struck him and that he became angry and grabbed the mattock he saw lying nearby in the farmyard.

Walke quoted Gordon as saying he loaded the body into a rented truck, unloaded it at the railroad tracks and returned the truck to Indianapolis.

Gordon was arrested in Oxford as he stepped from the Indianapolis bus. Walke said Mrs. Abbott became implicated when Gordon told of seeing her after the killing.

Seek Right To Open Casket of Vet's Body

By International News Service

AKRON, June 10—Parents of a suburban Cuyahoga Heights soldier killed in World War II sought court permission today to open their son's casket and establish his identity.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peterson, filed a petition for the order in Summit county common pleas court. The action was said by Akron legal authorities to be the first such taken in the country.

A regulation of the Ohio public health council forbids the opening of any hermetically sealed coffin shipped into the state except on a court order.

In their petition the Petersons said their son Garret E. was reported killed in action April 5, 1945. He served as a second lieutenant with the Army air forces in the Asiatic theater.

Seen Diesels Replacing Steam on U.S. Rails

By The Associated Press

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 10—A railroad president predicted today that diesel engines largely will supplant steam locomotives by 1958.

J. W. Barriger, president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway Co., told the Society of Automotive Engineers that diesels (requiring far less time out for servicing, already surpass steam locomotives in virtually all respects.

"The gross annual expense of owning and operating steam locomotives," Barriger said in a prepared speech, "represent about 75 per cent of the original cost of those machines. It is obvious from such basic considerations that an important capital investment is justified to obtain the economies that follow dieselization."

POSTAL PAY SUIT DISMISSED

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 10—A $95,000,000 postal-by-postal pay suit against Wright Aeronautical Corp. was dismissed by U. S. Judge John H. Druffel yesterday. The CIO United Auto Workers had sought $50,325,000 in alleged back pay and a like amount of damages. The union said it would appeal.

Caito Leads Assault, Lifting Two Over Wall, Hits 6 for 6

By BILL DIEM

They haven't started stuffing baseballs with rabbits yet but the way the balls hopped over the Springfield's 15 to 7 victory over led the 911 fans in attendance to believe so.

A total of seven homers sailed across the boards—five for Springfield and two for Marion. Springfield's second sacker Jim Caito, led in the punishment of the horsehide. He lifted two of them over the left field side and also a double and three singles in six trips to score a perfect night.

Catcher Dan Matthews hit around the clock—homer triple double and single in five trips.

But it was centerfielder Ray Berns who made his blows count the most. With three aboard in the first inning, he hit a three-two pitch over the left field wall driving in four runs and then in the eighth doubled with one on sending home a fifth runner.

First 4-Run Smash

His homer with the bases loaded was the first hit by the opponent in Lincoln park this year.

Two homers were hit in succession in the second inning—by John Pulmer and by Caito. Matthews got his in the third with a mate aboard.

The Marion round trippers were smashed by Bob Shuford with two on in the first, and by Don Schmitt with one on in the ninth.

It was a new high in home runs hit here in a single game in the memory of the fans.

Springfield's 19 hits off three Marion pitchers — Ray Peet, Mitchell Gegax and Frank Marchelli went for 42 bases, which is also a record this year. The 11 blows Marion picked up off Ted Birkeland were good for 21 bases.

Manager Bob Roth of the Giants who now are sole possessors of first place in the Ohio-Indiana league what with their win and Muncie's double loss to Newark figured it was the five-for American Association ball that made the difference, but it was the same ball that was used Tuesday night when Nick Altrock held the Giants to four hits.

3 Hits on 4 Pitches

The loss was charged to Peet who gave up three hits on his first four pitches. Then with one run in, a walk loaded the bases and set the stage for Berns' base-clearing four-master.

He gave up two homers in the second, but was lifted in the third after walking the first man up.

Gegax gave up 12 hits in the six innings he worked, including Matthews' four-bagger and Marchelli yielded one, a homer, in the ninth.

Some pretty fair fielding by the Cubs particularly the outfielders who made 17 of the 27 putouts kept the damage from being much worse.

In the sixth inning with Bob Davis on second via a double George Poydenicz hit to deep centerfield but Pete Neukirch made an unbelievable catch and run with it back to second base doubling Davis who had scooted home without tagging up as the blow looked like a hit.

Poydenicz was kicked out of the game in that inning by Umpire Pat Shaner who has a penchant for charging over to the dugout finger pointing at some offending player whose cutting remarks have reached his rabbit ears like a fleet of bombers reaches a radar set.

The Cubs leave today on a nine-day nine-game road trip and won't be back in Lincoln park until a week from Saturday when they'll entertain the Newark Yankees.

Tonight and Friday they'll be at Richmond, Saturday Sunday and Monday at Muncie Tuesday and Wednesday at Zanesville, and next Thursday and Friday at Newark.

THE PITCHING HELP that the Marion Cubs need is on its way. Eugene Pisarski is due here soon from Ogdensburg N. Y., and Bob Adkins is coming from Springfield, Mass. A catcher, Stanley King is also being sent to the Cubs from Springfield.

Bob Dill's Rebuilding Program Paying Off for Newark Yanks

By The Associated Press

Manager Bob Dill's extensive rebuilding program was beginning to pay dividends today for Newark's Yankees of the Ohio-Indiana baseball league.

Newark stayed in the cellar for weeks until Dill started weeding out players he figured weren't doing the club too much good. Only one man—catcher Paul Trapani—is left from the team that opened the season.

The retooled Yanks chalked up their seventh straight win last night and knocked Muncie out of a tie for the league's second place with a 6-3 and 10-3 twin bill victory. The double victories enabled Newark to take sixth place from Lima and defeated fifth-place Portsmouth 8-7.

In other games Springfield took undisputed possession of first place by defeating Marion 15-7 and Zanesville took second place by taking two games from tailend Richmond 12-11 and 25-2. Zanesville got 23 hits in the second game and a dozen in the opener.

Newark's new look faces an added test the rest of the week. The Yanks go on the road tonight playing Springfield. Newark won the opener last night when three Muncie errors and triples by Joe Faboo and John Cops accounted for four runs in the last. A seven-run seven-inning win the nightcap.

The night's hitting honors went to Zanesville's Dave Myers. He had seven straight hits, scored six runs and batted in six runs.

Lima beat Portsmouth when Slim Davis, Portsmouth's six foot seven-inch righthander walked in the winning run in the last of the ninth.

TRAPSHOOTERS GO AFTER TITLE TODAY

By The Associated Press

VANDALIA, O. June 10—Ohio's top flight trapshooters go after the state's 42nd annual class championships in a 200-target 16-yard event today A dozen other states also will be represented

The state association has dumped $1,200 added money into the prize hat But the Frost line marksmen can win much more than that by playing the open optionals—that unique system by which the amateur marksmen bet on their own prowess

The optional system is expensive For the $8 shooter may fire for the not-too-big prizes offered in the regular shoot But if he plays the optionals there's an added charge of $35 On top of that each must pay for eight boxes of 12-gauge shotgun shells

Defending the No 1 title today (class A) is Joe Hiestand the Hillsboro farmer who a few years ago broke 900 targets in a row from 16 yards in the Grand American And yesterday cracked 49 out of 50 in the difficult doubles race in which two targets are tossed at the same time

Other defending champs are class B—O E Inlow of Hamilton and M O Devers of Dayton who tied a year ago class C—Ed Hester of Columbus and class D—J W Mowry of Mt Orab

Yesterday's 16-yard preliminary tuneup wound up in a deadlock between P O Harbage former North American clay target champion from West Jefferson, O and Floyd Kreischer, C and O, railroader from Walbridge near Toledo Each broke 100 in a row, a feat Harbage has performed numerous times but the first for Kreischer—who has been shooting since 1912

Dick Sisler's 9th Homer Of Season Drives in Philly Runs

By The Associated Press

Apparently all that was troubling young Curt Simmons was a case of big league jitters.

Off to a poor start, the 19-year-old Egypt, Pa., High school graduate who received a record bonus of $60,000 from the Philadelphia Phillies last summer, is beginning to pay dividends on the investment.

The solidly-built southpaw gave the most impressive performance of his brief career last night when he outpitched the great Ewell Blackwell as the Phillies defeated the Reds 3-2 in Cincinnati.

Simmons was tagged for nine hits, but in only two innings did he allow more than one hit. He struck out nine Redlegs.

The victory, which advanced the fifth place Phils to only two and a half games behind the first place New York Giants in one of the closest races in National league history, was Simmons' third in succession He now has a record of four victories and four defeats Just two weeks ago Curt boasted only one victory against four setbacks.

Sisler Homers

Dick Sisler, hard-hitting Philly first baseman, accounted for all Philadelphia's runs with his ninth home run of the season which came with two men aboard in the third inning

Blackwell the Reds' ace right-hander, who gave up only five hits, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning

The St. Louis Cardinals missed an opportunity to take over first place when they suffered an 11-5 setback at the hands of the Boston Braves in a night game in St. Louis A victory over the Braves would have put the Cards half a game on top

The Giants, who started the day with a four percentage point lead, had split a doubleheader with the Cubs in Chicago and lost their four-point bulge So, instead of being in second place, the Giants found themselves in front by half a game when the Cards got whipped

After presenting the Cubs five unearned runs to drop an 8-7 decision in the opener the Giants came back to win the nightcap 3-1

Ralph Kiner's three-run homer highlighted a five-run first inning and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers The Pirates now trail the third-place Braves by three percentage points.

Tigers Defeat A's

The Detroit Tigers came from behind twice to hang another defeat upon the skidding Athletics, 7-4 in a night game in Philadelphia It was the A's fifth straight loss and dropped them into third place, a half game behind the New York Yankees Philadelphia is now four games behind the American league-leading Cleveland Indians.

Early Wynn registered his sixth victory as the fast-traveling Washington Senators whipped the St. Louis Browns 5-2 in another night game in Washington.

Rain forced the postponement of two games in the American league, Chicago at New York and Cleveland at Boston.

BEN HOGAN FAVORED TO COP U.S. OPEN

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, June 10 — Favorite Ben Hogan and about as fine a competitive field as the country has to offer teed off today in the 48th U S. Open golf championship.

The pint-sized Hershey, Pa., star with the long, straight shots was the logical choice to lead the pack when the tallied trophy is awarded at the 72-hole championship Saturday

Rivers is the longest layout over which the National Open has been played Its par is 35-36—71

The links derby that will decide whether Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., will retain the laurels he reaped a year ago at St. Louis, comprised the best in the land plus Bobby Locke of South Africa

Defending champion Worsham, incidentally, was not conceded much of a chance

Expected to tread on Hogan's heels were the casual Locke and the boomer from White Sulphur Springs, Va., Samuel Jackson Snead

Behind Hogan, Locke and Snead were 28 or more who could fill the specifications of a champion facing aliens

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient

GETS SKIN CLEANER

STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

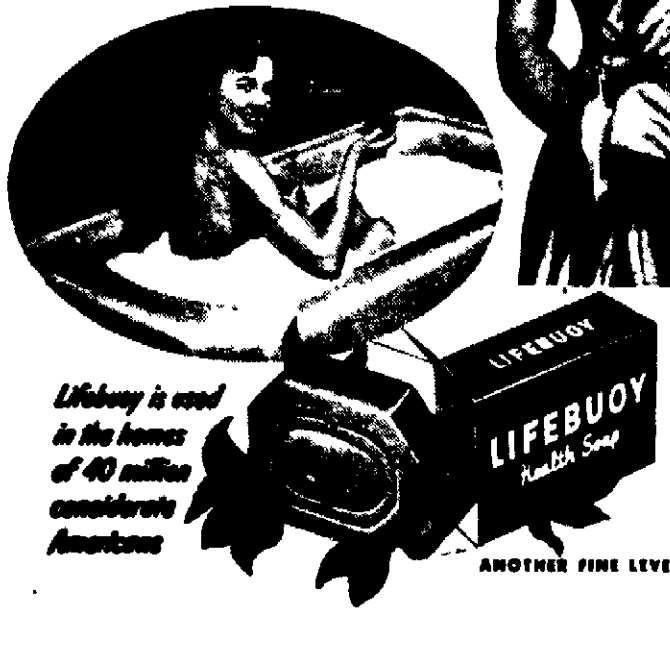
DOCTORS PROVED with 820 scientific tests the truth of this amazing statement...

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B O " (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see—yet leave "invisible dirt" on your skin to form a foothold for "B.O."!

Doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! When you bathe with any other leading soap, you are simply not as clean, not as safe from "B O " as you are when you bathe with Lifebuoy. After 820 scientific tests doctors say Lifebuoy's purifying ingredient makes the difference! And it is this same purifying ingredient that makes Lifebuoy so mild.

Use Lifebuoy daily. It is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather Remember Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin ... stops "B O " as no other leading soap can!

Be popular this summer! Remember that everyone perspires more in summer heat Take a Lifebuoy bath daily It means top protection from B O .. lasting protection 24 hours a day!



Lifebuoy is used in the homes of 40 million considerate Americans

New Pressure Method Used To Give Injections

Anybody who has ever had to take frequent hypodermic shots over a long period of time will welcome the new jet pressure method of injecting medicine under the skin. Both the prick of the needle and the sore spot at the site of the injection are done away with by the new technique which represents the first real improvement in the hundred years we have been using injections.

Always before, when a medicine vaccine or serum had to be given under the skin, it was necessary to administer it by means of a syringe and hypodermic needle.

Now a new device is available which will force such drugs through the skin under high pressure. The process is almost painless and no needle is necessary. Of 118 adults given injections in this way all but two either felt no pain at all or much less than with the needle. This is a great boon to patients who require the daily administration of such things as insulin or penicillin over a long period of time. Insulin is used to control diabetes and penicillin as you know is used in treating many infections.

Children do not seem to have fear of the pressure instrument as they do of the syringe or the needle. Furthermore no sterilization is necessary with the pressure or jet injection so that a great deal of time may be saved when large numbers of persons are being given some immunizing material.

The material for injection with the pressure method is placed in a metal ampule, capped with an aluminum container. The ampule which has the shape of a blunt-nosed bullet, has a very tiny hole in the tip. The other end is closed with a rubber plug.

In using the device the cap on the aluminum container is removed and the ampule is locked securely in the front end of the injecting instrument. A spring, controlled by a button at the back end of the contraption, supplies the pressure. When the button is released a spring operates a metal plunger to force the liquid contents through the tiny opening in the form of a fine spray. This spray is so fine and ejected under such high pressure that it pierces the skin almost without pain.

In giving the injection the skin is cleansed with alcohol and then allowed to dry. It is important for the skin to be dry because, if it is moist, the blunt end of the ampule may slip slightly and produce a cut when the injection is given. The blunt end of the ampule is held against the skin, the button is pressed to release the spring and the instrument is held firmly against the skin for two or three seconds. The material injected spreads widely under the skin so that it is rapidly absorbed.

Questions and Answers

S. E. White: What causes blood to coagulate in the back of the throat during the night?

Answer: The blood in your throat may come from many sources. It may come from some disturbance of the nose or throat itself or it may come from the lungs. A thorough study should be made by a physician to determine the cause of the bleeding. Then proper treatment may be carried out.

Strauss Patriotism In Galion Address

Special to The Star

GALION, June 10: That all religions, all races and all groups in America have contributed something very definite to what makes our country was stated in the address before the Galion Rotary club this week on 'Flag Day' by Robert L. Moulton. Mr. Moulton, an attorney, is a former Crawford county assemblyman and during the state administration of Gov. Frank Lausche was secretary of commerce. He is president of the Galion Kiwanis club.

Mr. Moulton warned that a challenge is being made to our representative form of government. The danger's not so much from the outside, he said, but also by groups and individuals within our country including some good but misguided citizens. He regarded as a high privilege the right the American method gives of permitting everyone to have opinion in regard to legislation, said this is the very substance of the American system and that we should have faith in it.

Much of Mr. Moulton's talk dealt with the history of the stars and stripes. "Flag day represents the fourteenth of June 1777," he said, "when Continental Congress decided on a flag for our new country."

PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS SHY OF INTERVIEWS

Special to The Star

KENTON, June 16—The greatest difficulty in hiring teachers is having them to come here for personal interviews, Hardin County Superintendent of Schools Frank C. Ramsdell said today.

"We need only 10 teachers to fill out our faculties totaling about 125 in this county, but we hire none without personal interviews," he explained.

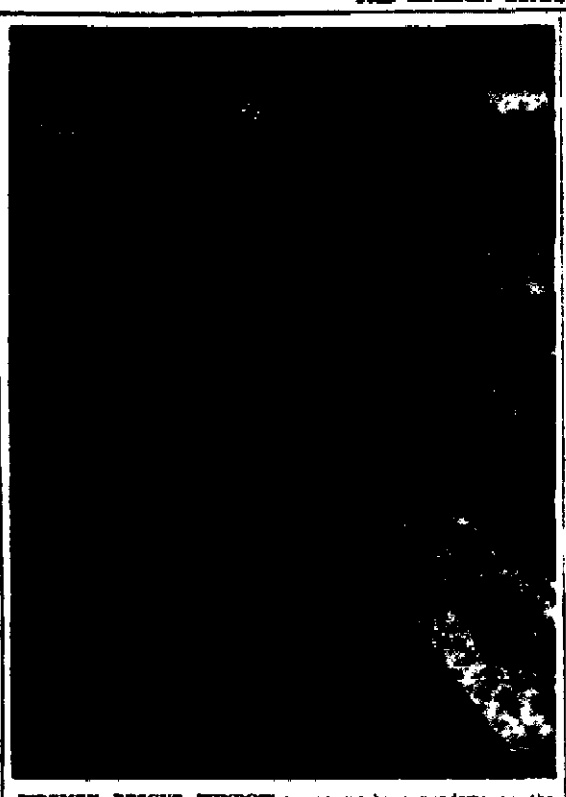
Of the 35 applications now on file here, only three have shown up for interviews.

Supt. Ransdell considers the teacher situation here as normal. Only 15 teachers were lost this spring and those were for normal causes such as illnes, better jobs, or not being reemployed.

At present, teachers needed include three for commercial subjects, two English, one English-Latin, one vocational agriculture, one science-mathematics, and two music.

HURT IN SAWMILL

NORTH ROBINSON — Albert Shuck, 60, sawmill employe, underwent an operation for amputation of the little finger of the left hand at Bucyrus City hospital Tuesday following an injury at the sawmill.



FIREMEN RESCUE WINDOW WASHER. Chicago firemen drag a dangling window washer John Munoz, 53, to safety after his belt broke while he was washing windows on the sixth floor. The near-tragedy occurred at the Socony-Vacuum building at 50 East Van Buren street in the Loop district.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"Of course, call Philip whenever you wish," I told my father, and going to an easy chair in the corner as far from the telephone as I could get, I leaned back in it and closed my eyes.

For I dreaded infinitely my coming interview with Olina. With the memory of what Dicky calls "Georges' colossal jack-assness" fresh upon me, I did not see how I was going to paint a picture of Olina's betrothed husband which would fit her rosiate dreams of him.

With a squaring of my shoulders, I remembered Lillian's irreverent quotation "A good lie is an ever-present help in time of trouble." Then I salved my conscience with the remembrance that Georges had told me more than once his undying love for Olina, and his joy in their coming marriage. I could stress that, and also the plans for the wedding, and forget conveniently all the fantastic farrago about his conscience, and his duty toward Mary to which I had had to listen from Georges' lips, a torrent of words which had been turned off only by Dicky's resourcefulness and strong-arm methods.

My father had his connection now, and with my course at last charted, I was free to listen to the one-sided conversation.

"Philip?" my father queried. "This is Charles. I am down in my daughter's apartment. Will it be convenient for you and Olga to see me now if I come up? Yes? That is fine.

"Now, one other thing," he went on. "Margaret has returned from that journey of which you know. She would like very much to see Olina as soon as it will be convenient. What's that? I thought as much. The coast is clear here. There will be no one in this suite save my daughter and yours. Suppose you bring Olina down here with you, and leave her with Margaret while we have our conference upstairs. Yes? I'll wait. Ah, that's splendid! We'll be waiting for you. Good-bye."

He hung up the receiver, and turned to me with an amused, indulgent smile upon his face.

"Philip said that Olina had been up since daybreak, and that she would be ready to come down at any time. He is bringing her down at once," my father said.

He leaned back in his chair, and gave me a long quizzical look.

"Don't let your Puritan conscience get the better of you when you talk to Olina," he said. After all, this wedding to Georges is going to come off, and she's entitled to all the illusions she can keep about him."

"I'm afraid my Puritan conscience is an awful wreck, if not a total casualty," I said. "Fortunately, I can tell her truthfully that he loves her madly—"

"So he says," my father murmured skeptically, and I realized that here was another person who was not listed among Georges admirers.

"No, I really think he does," I told my father earnestly, "and he appears to be much thrilled at the prospect of the romantic secret marriage. I shall stress those things, and forget, conveniently, all the other embroidery with which Georges embellished the conversation."

"I think Dicky's word, 'tripe' would better describe it," he said, and I laughed outright.

"Secretly I agree with you," I said, and then the knocker sounded, and I went to the door undoing the night chain when I saw Philip Verriten and his stepdaughter Olina outside.

"Come in," I said, and then Philip and my father were exchanging hearty handshakes, while with Olina in my arms, I was whispering in her ear.

"I have so many nice things to tell you," I murmured.

LEGION BALL GROUP MEETS

150 at Dugout for Kick-off Session To Open Season.

A "kick-off" meeting for the American Legion Junior Baseball program, the team and officials, was held at a regular meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 102, American Legion, Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout. Bird-McGinnis Post and the Lincoln-Mercury auto dealer here are co-sponsors of the team.

Approximately 150 boys from 11 to 17 years of age from throughout the county, interested in playing baseball, and other interested persons attended the meeting, which launched the current season of junior baseball. The purpose of the meeting and gathering the boys together was to create interest in forming several baseball teams among the younger set.

William R. Martin, chairman of the junior baseball program in Marion presided. Short talks were given by W. E. Orcutt, manager of the team, Ralph Schenk, Lincoln - Mercury dealer here, Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of Marion city schools, Nelson Irvin, coach of the league team, Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church and chaplain of the post, and Rev. Hugh J. Murphy, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic church.

To Form Several Teams

Plans of the post are to organize a number of teams within the city and county to play in a league, with one "first" team.

W. E. Orcutt, Craig Rogers, Newton Cunningham and Jewell Ralston are members of the post who are participating actively in promoting the Junior Baseball.

Two baseball films, the 1947 World Series pictures and a color film, "It's Your Team," were shown by Mr. Orcutt. Refreshments were served to the boys in the social rooms.

At the business session of the Legion delegates and alternates were elected to the Sixth District convention to be held in Marion, Sunday, July 18. The delegates are John H. Moore, C. M. Rogers, John V. Ruth, Dr. L. W. Kohlhorst, R. C. Burkew, Newton Cunningham and J. W. Llewellyn, and the alternates are J. A. Trippa, R. C. Copeland, Howard Cross, Cloyce O'Brien, Judge Ruzzo, Earl Caldwell and William E. Arndt. It was decided to send the same delegates to the department convention to be held Aug. 7-9 in Columbus.

Membership Report

Frank Bowen gave a report of members who are sick and John V. Ruth announced that 32 more members are needed to reach the set goal of 600. John Moore announced a post annual picnic to be held Sunday afternoon, July 11, at Lincoln park, with members of all posts in the entire sixth district invited as guests. A program of games will be arranged, and in the evening, a game will be played between the Marion Junior Baseball team and a like team from Detroit, Mich. Dr. Kohlhorst is serving as chairman of the picnic committee.

An announcement was made of the county convention to be held Sunday, June 26, at 1:30 p. m. at the Waldo Legion post headquarters. First nomination of officers for 1949 was held and final nomination and election will be held at the next meeting, June 22. Prayer by the chaplain closed the meeting.

IBERIA, June 19—The year's 4-H programs has moved forward in Iberia community, holding the spotlight with an enrollment of 56 boys and girls for an all-time high. Mrs. Ralph Riddle who heads the Miss America club reports 16 members and M. Doyle Rusk lists 34 members in the twin 4-H clubs, Olentangy and Thoughtful Farmers.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who Is This Man?" For instance...

"He was one of the earliest lawyers in American history...

"...and yet he was too shy to court a woman outright...

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower...

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims...

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hopkins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "cute" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is an old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

SEES NO SOLVING IN HOLY LAND BY FORCE

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, June 10—Military action will never solve the Palestine problem, the opinion of historian Harold A Lamb

That is because the Arab peoples will resist for generations, if necessary, the pressure of western influence behind development of a sovereign Jewish state he said in an interview just as they will resist any foreign state imposed by force

On the other hand Lamb believes the Arabs and Zionists could reach an amicable agreement for colonization by immigrants—if they are left to themselves to solve their problems

"As long as you increase the foreign pressure, just that long you increase the cleavage and the impossibility of an Arab agreement" he said

Author of numerous historical works including "The Crusades" Lamb spent two wartime years (1943-45), in the middle east on confidential war department service

Militarily, Lamb said, it has been found impossible from the time of the Crusades down through the ages to conquer the people of the middle east by pushing in from a Holy Land coastal bridgehead to the interior, as fans might be necessary for an international army or police force one were to attempt to enforce United Nations partition Arab forces brought into the region in sufficient strength would be necessary to occupy sectors of regular armies would be necessary because resistance can be expected for years by guerrilla warfare

Annie Rooney — By Darrell McClure

YES, I REMEMBER YOUR EARTH MOTHER - SHE WAS A KIND AND VERY BEAUTIFUL LADY -
BUT WHY DID SHE LEAVE ME? DID SHE NOT LOVE ME?
SHE ADORED YOU - SHE WAS WEEPING WHEN VALAGGA AND THE SEVEN SACRED SAGES CARRIED HER AWAY--
WHERE IS SHE NOW?
THAT IS A SECRET ONLY VALAGGA CAN ANSWER - SHE MAY BE IMPRISONED - SHE MAY BE--
I AM A GODDESS - I WILL COMMAND VALAGGA TO TELL ME THE TRUTH OR---
THE TRUTH IS NOT IN HIM - TO ANGER HIM MIGHT CAUSE YOUR MOTHER TO SUFFER OR DIE, IF SHE IS VALAGGA'S PRISONER

Truman Uses Teletype From Plane or Train

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, June 9—President Truman can communicate by radio teletype from his special train or his airplane with the White House or anywhere else on the Army worldwide network, the signal corps said today.

When the President travels he uses Army radio to keep in touch with the White House. A radio teletype has been installed on his train and another on his special plane, the Independence.

The Independence has been acting as a messenger plane between the White House and the presidential train during the present tour.

Recently the train was between Montpelier and Pocatello, Idaho, and the Independence was flying over Ohio near Zanesville the two were in teletype communication through an Army station in the Pentagon in Washington.
